

FDR REFEREE IN ICKES-HOPKINS RELIEF BATTLE

SECRETARY APPEALS TO PRESIDENT

Will Make Journey To Hyde Park For Conference

By Thomas J. Hamilton Jr., Associated Press Staff Writer Washington, Sept. 10.—(P)—A direct personal appeal to President Roosevelt was announced by Secretary Ickes today in a final effort to overturn work relief projects fixed by Harry L.
Hopkins.

Ickes announced that he would go to Hyde Park tomorrow—at the president's invitation Hopkins quickly countered with the remark that he intended to go there himself "soon."

Hopkins' rejection of 2000 public works projects was the spark which set blazing openly the Long-mouldering feud between the works progress director and Ickes.

But Mr. Roosevelt will have a more fundamental problem to solve for his $4,000,000,000 works drive—whether to turn back to the substantial projects carried out by Ickes in the old PWA or to press the speedier pick and shovel and "bono-doling" activities favored by Hopkins both in the civil works administration and the new job-drive.

In announcing his showdown appeal to the president, Ickes for the first time acknowledged publicly his differences with Hopkins. He insisted that the projects vetoed by Hopkins were not dead but in a state of "suspended animation."

Despite Ickes' Hyde Park appeal, Hopkins was quick to emphasize that he would maintain his present requirements.

Hopkins, unwavering in his insistence that costs of materials must be paid down, and that projects must not be approved in communities where there is not a sufficient surplus of suitable relief labor, has steadfastly increased the functions of his works progress administration.

The September 12 deadline for submitting all applications in final form added to the work program complications.

Ickes said today he expected the president to permit "reasonable revisions" later and reiterated his expectation that houses would be expected from the deadline. The president, however, said last week that housing must conform to the deadline.

Ickes announced his showdown appeal after at first declining to "prophesy" what he would do to save his program from its latest dangers.

AUTO HITS WAGON

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 10.—(P)— Don D. Pention, 39, Bloomington, suffered a shoulder fracture and a horse of the team he was driving hitched to a hay rack was killed here Tuesday when a truck driven by O. G. Maxwell, Iowa, passed and struck the wagon. The second horse had to be killed. Maxwell, who was uninjured, said he saw an oncoming car tried to drop back into his own lane of traffic but could not slow down enough to avoid the crash.

FACES CHARGES

San Francisco, Sept. 10.—(P)— United States Commissioner E. E.

Moad, who faces a charge of transporting a stolen automobile across state boundaries. He is accused of driving the car from Boise, Idaho, to Granite City, Ill., in August, 1932.
Moad was arrested here by federal agents after his release from the San Francisco county jail where he served a 12-months term for grand theft.

NAZI'S OPEN CONVENTION AT NURNBERG

Hitler Calls Parley

"Party Day Of Freedom"

By A. D. Stefferud,
Associated Press Foreign Staff.
Nurnberg, Germany, Sept. 10.—(P)— Nurnberg bristled with uniforms and guns tonight as the Nazi party opened a convention which Reich-fuhrer Adolf Hitler called "the party day of freedom."

By this Hitler means "freedom" from "the shackles of Versailles." Hitler himself arrived to take an active part in the convention, which will last a week. "Hells" went up from hundreds of thousands when the Nazi chieftain came into this city of the Meistersingers.

Despite the military evidences, the convention opened with protestations of peace. Said Otto Dietrich, Nazi press chief, in an address to 700 newspaper representatives explaining the scope and purpose of "the party day of freedom."

"Here in Nurnberg the Nazi party is gathered for a convention for a convention for fruitful labor in behalf of the German people and for a demonstration of its recovered freedom. Our idea of state shows the world that this country's power is founded less on bayonets than upon national energies and reserves of strength."

"The idea of world peace through collectivity remains a beautiful but sterile theory, so long as not all the nations represented at Geneva become angels of peace."

Dietrich said the purpose of the convention was to serve world peace.
In what he called a contrast to the recent Moscow Komintern (Communist Internationale) Congress, The Nazi said this congress was aimed at "throwing the torch of the Bolshe-vist revolution to all the world."

Freedom, as Hitlerism conceives it to be, will be the main theme of the seven day conference.

Hitler stood upright in an automobile as he entered the city, giving the Nazi salute. For half an hour following his arrival the ancient church bells of the city were rung.

MAKE SURVEY FOR CONCORD, ARCADIA ROAD

State Officers, County Sup't Of Highway Go Over Proposed Route

Messrs. Slaymaker and Cook of the State Highway Department were in Morgan county Monday and accompanied William Casler, highway superintendent, in a preliminary survey of the route of an improved road from Concord to Arcadia. The route will extend from a point one mile north of Concord about eight miles east of Arcadia.

The state, aided with federal WPA funds, will grade the route and construct bridges. A surveying party followed the inspecting highway officers and began an immediate survey of the new road. A right-of-way committee will begin at once to secure the land for the route, following the same plan as is being used in getting the right-of-way for the road from Concord to Arcadia.

The road will connect at Arcadia with a gravelled route to the hard road on Route 78 and on east to Litterberg. Representative Warren E.
Brookhouse has been working to secure the Concord-Arcadia road, with the co-operation of the county highway department and citizens of the interested communities.

PLAN TRYOUTS FOR STUDENTS AT H. S.

On the heels of the starting of high school itself comes the tryouts for the various organizations. The Boys' Glee Club, one of the most popular clubs, will give prospective candidates an opportunity to show their wares at the tryouts to be held Thursday noon at 12:30 in the music room. Miss Lena Mae Hoyer, director of the high school music department, will be in charge and will be assisted by the officers of the club. Tryouts for the Girls' Treble Clef Club will take place in the music room Friday afternoon after school.

Plans are already being made for the annual musical presentation of these two organizations. It is usually held in the early spring in the form of an operetta. This year, however, the date has been changed and tentatively set as November 5. At this time the clubs will unite in the production of a musical play. Just what will be given has not been definitely decided as yet, but, in accordance with what is being done at several of the leading high schools of the country, a light school opera, specially arranged for high school students, is being considered. Many are available, including Flowtown's "Martha," Gilbert and Sullivan pieces, "Robin Hood," and others. Whichever one is selected, it will be something new for the school, and for those interested in the school activities.

Crisp Comment in Nation's News by Associated Press

Secretary of War Dern, relating that he sees little likelihood of the United States being drawn into war:
"The Italian-Ethiopian situation will lead to war, however, I am not alarmed for fear the United States will be drawn into the war."

Mayor Adam Kornig of Suencer, Neb., painting a gloomy picture of the future of small villages throughout the nation:

"The writing is on the wall. The smaller villages are deteriorating and the cities are growing. Spencer (population 616) hasn't a chance to pay out her bonded indebtedness."

The Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, national organizer for Huey P. Long's "Share-Our-Wealth" clubs, answering that club leaders had pledged support to Governor O. K. Allen following the senator's death:

"In a conference with a group of leaders were concluded: We, the leaders of the Share-Our-Wealth Society of Louisiana representing 326,000 members, pledge our absolute loyalty to our governor, O. K. Allen."

George H. Mealey, chairman of the color committee of the Tanner's Council of America, insisting that white has become a color as annoying to shoe manufacturers as red is to a bull:

"For some reason, American men have come to believe that the all-white shoe is correct for any occasion any season. It just isn't right."

JEWS BARRED FROM SCHOOLS IN GERMANY

Are Ordered To Get Out By Next Easter

By Melvin K. Whiteleather, Associated Press Foreign Staff.
Berlin, Sept. 10.—(P)—Nazis
"purged" their public schools today by ordering Jewish children to get out.

Bernard Rust, Prussia's commissioner for culture and education, chose the opening of the Nazi party convention at Nurnberg to announce that Jewish school children between the ages of 6 and 14 must leave by next Easter.

Separate public schools which the Jewish children must attend will be opened on that date. The decree ordering the preparations said all pure German schools must be free "from Jewish and foreign influences."

Rust emphasized that previous attempts to segregate the Jews solely on the basis of church affiliation had not proved successful and said whether a Jew is a member of a synagogue or not he will be classified as Jewish.
Rust said his decree was "carrying out an old national socialistic demand."

As early as 1933, the year of Hitler's advent to power, higher schools saw the separation of Aryans and non-Aryans. The decree made clear that race, not religion, will be the determining factor in the segregation.

JUDGE FITZHENRY ILL

Chicago, Sept. 10.—(P)—Dr. James R. Miller tonight said the condition of Judge Louis FitzHenry, 65, of the United States court of appeals, was "unchanged."

"Judge FitzHenry is seriously ill," he added.

The jurist, whose home is Bloomington, Ill., was at Passavant hospital where he was taken Sunday from his vacation home at Potosky, Mich. He was said to be suffering from a kidney ailment and high blood pressure.

Efforts to Keep Italy and Ethiopia at Peace Appear to Have Run Into a Stone Wall

By Wade Werner

Geneva, Sept. 10.—(P)—Efforts of a sub-committee of the council of the League of Nations to keep Italy and Ethiopia at peace apparently had run into a stone wall tonight.

An informed source said Salvador DeMadariaga of Spain, chairman of the sub-committee of five nations, had reported no common ground had been found for a solution.

Conversations with the Italian delegation, the chairman was reported as saying, have proved "very far from satisfactory."

From reliable sources, it was learned that DeMadariaga, in reporting to the committee results of his contacts with both the Italian and Ethiopian representatives, said his interviews were so far from being satisfactory that it seemed doubtful whether it would be worthwhile to pursue them further unless something unexpected happened.

Representatives of Spain, Britain, France, Turkey and Poland composed the sub-committee.

With the arrival here of Sir Samuel Hoare, British foreign secretary, ef-

ESTIMATE OF WHEAT, CORN CROPS LOWER

Ample Food Supplies However Have Been Predicted

Washington, Sept. 10.—(P)—Substantial drops during August in wheat and corn crop prospects were reported by the agriculture department today, but ample food supplies were predicted for the winter months.

The September 1 condition report estimated the total wheat crop at 394,815,000 bushels and the corn crop at 1,183,755,000 bushels. The August 1 estimate had placed the wheat crop at 607,678,000 bushels and the corn crop at 2,272,147,000 bushels.

The loss of 13,000,000 bushels of wheat was attributed to continued rust damage, which cut the crop by approximately 123,000,000 bushels during July. It is increasingly evident, the department said, that the domestic supply of hard red spring wheat of milling quality will be below requirements.

The wheat crop, based on today's estimate, will be the third smallest since 1904. The 1934 production was 497,000,000 bushels, and the 1933 crop 523,000,000 bushels.

Dry weather in the southwestern part of the belt was blamed for the 88,000,000 bushels drop in the corn crop.

Grain sorghum prospects were reduced 15 per cent, and the department said a very low production of feed grains was expected in the western part of the corn belt. However, the report said this did not indicate a marked change in the national feed situation.

"Barring early frost," the department reported, "the supply of feed grains on farms is expected to be sufficient to permit farmers to feed the usual quantity of grain per head to the reduced numbers of livestock and poultry and still have about the usual proportion of the feed grain crops on hand at the end of the season."

The estimate for sugar beet production was reduced 5 per cent; cotton 3 per cent, and barley, buckwheat, potatoes and beans from 1 to 2 per cent each, while slight improvement was shown for tobacco and rice.

Continue Search For 4 Convicts

Chester, Ill., Sept. 10.—(P)—Searching parties spread over Southern Illinois and across the Mississippi river to the Missouri lowlands tonight, but apparently three convicted murderers and a criminally insane patient had made good their escape from Illinois penal institutions.

Search for Howard Bethel, John Wilderman and Richard Land, three trustees who walked away from the Southern Illinois penitentiary at Menard Sunday night, was centered across the river in Missouri. Prison guards said they believed the three had stolen a rowboat and crossed the river.

The hunt for Charles Zimmerman, who escaped yesterday from the Illinois security hospital here, led officers through Southern Illinois cities and towns but they declared they "hadn't heard a thing new." Zimmerman escaped in an automobile.

BODY ARRIVES

New York, Sept. 10.—(P)—The body of George C. Hanson, veteran official of the United States consular service who killed himself in his bathroom September 2 on a ship homeward bound from Marseilles, arrived here today on the liner President Polk.

The body was taken to Bridgeport, Conn., for burial.

Mr. Hanson's sister, Mrs. Gene Allen, of Chicago, met the ship and completed funeral arrangements.

HUEY LONG'S BODY WILL BE BURIED ON CAPITOL GROUNDS, BATON ROUGE

LONG LEADERS ARE PLANNING TO 'CARRY ON'

Governor Allen Has Inherited His Dic- tatorship

New Orleans, La., Sept. 10.—(P)— The powerful "dictatorship" created by Huey Long was inherited tonight by his trusted lieutenant, Governor O.
K. Allen, whose ability to keep it alive was uncertain.

Even as Allen, life-time chum of the assassinated ruler of Louisiana politics, was announcing he would accept the principles of his dead leader and "carry on" demands went up from the opposition for a new form of government.

The governor made his announcement before a crowd of leaders in the Long political machine who crowded his office and assured him of their support.

"Long has left us but we must go on," Governor Allen, affected by grief, said as he clasped the hands of intimate friends.

"We're with you, Governor," they replied.

And thus was wafted into form the policy of the administration of Governor O. K. Allen to follow in the footsteps of the man to whom he owed his office as things were moving swiftly through Louisiana.

The legislature that Long had Allen call into session to enact laws against "encroachments" in Louisiana by the Roosevelt administration quickly advised that program toward final enactment tomorrow with George Wallace, assistant attorney general, and one of Long's first aides, steering the measures through.

The Rev. Gerald K. Smith of Shreveport, Long's national "Share-Our-Wealth" clubs organizer, announced that representatives of the Louisiana clubs had accepted the leadership of Allen in that movement and had pledged their loyalty to him in his efforts to carry on the wealth redistribution program sponsored by Long.

While the capital continued to be deluged with expressions of condolence over the passing of Senator Long, demands were made from anti-Long quarters for repeal of the dictatorship.

Policeman Is Indicted For Tavern Death

Jeffrey O'Donohue Charged With Slaying Attorney David Cochrane

Chicago, Sept. 10.—(P)—A true bill charging Policeman Jeffrey O.
Donohue, of the Stockyards Station, with the tavern slaying of Attorney David K. Cochrane, Jr., was reported to have been voted by the grand jury today.

The reported indictment came less than 24 hours after Police Captain John Prendergast announced that O'Donohue confessed the crime.

Policeman Walter Breen, named by O'Donohue as his companion at the time of the killing on the night of August 19, testified before the grand jury but reports said no action was taken against him.

Arrest of O'Donohue and Breen was made early today after Chief Prendergast told all city officers their guns would be submitted to ballistics tests.

The chief said O'Donohue told him Cochrane was slain for refusing to obey O'Donohue's order to keep out of an argument alleged to have been started by Joseph Zakar's refusal to leave the tavern at the legal closing time.

Prendergast quoted O'Donohue as saying he feared punishment for drinking if he reported the shooting.

APPROVE BOND ISSUE

Decatur, Ill., Sept. 10.—(P)—By a vote of 1349 to 156 voters here today approved a $120,000 school bond issue to finance a PWA school bond issue for construction of a $200,000 addition to the high school building. The PWA grant has already been given federal approval, and construction is expected to start this fall.

CONVICTS ESCAPE

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 10.—Two convicts sentenced from Cook county for robbery disappeared today from the prison farm. They were Bruno Orlik, 22, and Edward Kientz, 27, each of whom had been sentenced to one to 20 years.
Guards discovered their absence in a check of convicts at 8:45 p. m. (central standard time.)

TO URBANA

Miss Helen Fawcner, 129 Prospect street will leave Thursday morning for the University of Illinois, where she will enroll as a Junior.

Leopold And Loeb Pass Their 11th Year in Prison

Chicago, Sept. 10.—(P)—In good health, still friends and at work on white collar tasks for which their education fitted them, Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold today passed the eleventh anniversary of their commitment to Joliet penitentiary for the murder of Bobby Franks.

Sentenced to life and 99 years, the students must serve at least 42 years more before the Illinois parole board will consider their case. W. J. Jones, board chairman said.

Loeb, who guards said was liked better by his fellow convicts than Leopold, has been directing the prison's correspondence school for inmates. Leopold has been working with Prof. Ferris Loune, sociologist, in a study of recidivists and of the opportunities of parolees to redeem themselves.

Guards said Leopold has occasionally broken prison rules in the past and been confined in solitary for the breaches, but Loeb was pictured as a model convict.

POLITICIANS STUDY EFFECTS OF LONG DEATH

Republicans Claim It Will Be Thorn in Democrats Side

Washington, Sept. 10.—(P)—Out of the endeavor to measure political effects of the death of Senator Huey P. Long came the view from Republicans today that the sharpest thorn to plague the Democratic administration was gone.

It was expressed in the quiet of their offices by persons who refused to be quoted. They put the same thought again in different words and said they hated to see this "Democratic dissolving influence" removed.

Democrats talked less about his death, other than to voice expressions of deep regret. Politics did not appear in their statements, but there was general agreement that the outstanding threat of a third party movement had disappeared from the path of the oncoming presidential campaign.

Postmaster General Farley, just returned from a Hawaiian vacation, said he never had thought there would be a substantial third party movement.

Farley added a prediction that President Roosevelt would be renominated and re-elected without difficulty, regardless of who might be the Republican candidate.

Long had threatened to fight the renomination of Mr. Roosevelt, and said he would lead a third party into the field if the president were the Democratic candidate and a conservative was named by the Republicans.

While the capital was asking how Long's death would affect the national political picture, James M.
Thompson, a New Orleans publisher, was demanding an immediate repeal of the laws that gave Long his dictatorial power.

Woman Killed in Auto Collision

Lafayette, O., Sept. 10.—(P)—A 76-year-old woman was injured fatally and two other persons suffered serious hurts in an automobile collision here late today.

Mrs. Thomas B. Pearson, 76, of Champaign, Ill., died in Mount Carmel hospital in Columbus a few minutes after arriving there.

Her son-in-law, R. H. Ferguson, 37, of Poland, O., and his mother, Mrs.
C. P. Ferguson, 65, of Champaign, were taken to the hospital.

Ferguson's car collided with one driven by Howard Senner of Lafayette.
Senner's wife, Jennie, 53, and his seven-year-old daughter, Mary Jane, received slight injuries.

FATALLY HURT

Chicago, Sept. 10.—(P)—Evelyn Barica, 16, was fatally injured tonight when a truck in which she and eight others were riding collided with a bus carrying 22 boys from the St. Charles school for boys.

All of the other occupants of the truck were slightly injured but only one occupant of the bus was hurt.

KILLED BY AUTO

Mascoutah, Ill., Sept. 10.—(P)—Joseph Laquet, 82, farmer, was killed today when he was struck by an automobile driven by the Rev. H. W. Hosto pastor of the Hecker, Ill., evangelical church.

stepped from the curb into the path of the minister's car. The Rev. Hosto was not held.

FUNERAL RITES WILL BE HELD ON THURSDAY

Senator's Remains To Lie In State In Statehouse

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 10.—(P)—
The state that Huey P. Long ruled with a dictatorial hand prepared tonight to give him a state funeral and burial in the shadow of the monumental capitol he built, while a struggle began to determine whether the power he wielded is to be passed on.

The 42-year-old United States senator, former governor, "share the wealth" advocate and potential presidential candidate, died early today the victim of an assassin's bullet.

Stunned by the suddenness of his passing, his lieutenants sought to keep together the amazing political machine he created and directed single-handedly.

But a cry arose from those who had opposed him for repeal of the state dictatorship.

Governor O. K. Allen, white-haired, trusted lieutenant of the assassinated leader, and a former Sunday school teacher, was the man who sought to take over control. He declared "we will carry on" but whether he would be able to do it with anything like the success of Senator Long was the question in the minds of friends and foes alike.

Shot through the abdomen by a young, mild-mannered Baton Rouge physician, Dr. Carl A. Weiss, Jr., in the corridor of the statehouse Sunday night, Senator Long had been in a grave condition since. Five blood transfusions and an operation, and the physical situation, and a determi-

A Plea For Youth

We realize that this article will never reach Premier Mussolini's desk, and that if a copy did get into Italy it would be immediately suppressed. But we wish it were possible somehow to get it across to the Italian dictator that he is about to make a bad bargain. If he makes war on Ethiopia and sends his fighting men into East Africa, he may win; but he will pay for his victory in blood. And it will be the best blood of Italy that is sacrificed for a few thousand square miles of African wilderness.

When the war is over, whether it is won or lost, Mussolini will find his nation poorer in money and men. He will find the young life depleted and a surplus of widows and women of marriageable age. The best brains of his country will be gone, and only the week will remain to continue the nation's activities.

Depression will follow in the wake of war, and the young people of Italy will have a harder time to live than they had to die. Youth will be penalized all along the red path Mussolini is mapping for future progress. The young men who are loaded into ships like dumb brutes and shipped off to fight in what some writers have termed the "hell-hole of creation" will bear the brunt of this war for conquest, and if they return, they will suffer its effects for years to come.

Somewhere we would like to have Mussolini think on these things. He has two sons on their way to the African front and another young lad who has all the enthusiasm of a patriotic boyish heart. The Premier seems oblivious to the mute appeal of his own children, and he would doubtless turn a deaf ear to any argument. But some day he may repent—when it is too late and Italy is bled white.

Where Prison Punishes

Recently the old French prison ship La Martinique set sail from France with a load of miserable human freight, 673 convicts bound for Devil's Island. The embarkation was carried out under military guard. The men were hauled to the ship in barges and taken immediately below decks to be locked in huge steel cages, where they will remain until they are taken out to begin their sentence in the penal colony on the edge of the South American jungle.

Imprisonment under such conditions means punishment and little else. Most of these convicts will never return to France, for if a man is sentenced for ten years, he must remain in the colony after his release from prison. But there was apparently no tears among the convicts.

Instead, as each barge put out from the shore there arose from its human cargo a shout of derision, "Death to the cows," the worst insult the prisoners could hurl at the French police. Such men would be almost incapable of reform. Punishment would be about all they could properly appreciate. Soft-hearted parole boards in America would do well to consider the inherent badness of convicts before turning so many of them loose on society. France is wise enough to remove the worst enemies of its people to a spot where politics or publicity cannot reach them.

Louisiana Sees What Comes of European Dictatorship

By Bruce Catton

It would be interesting to know what a man from Russia, say, or Yugoslavia, would have to say about the shooting of Senator Huey Long. As Americans, we have always made a point of looking down on those European countries in which the plain citizen's only answer to the dictator is a revolver shot. We have prided ourselves on the fact that in our country the free and open channels of democracy make such violence unnecessary. Over here, if we don't like our rulers we vote them out of office; in such European countries as are ruled by dictators, those who feel oppressed have to shoot their oppressors to get rid of them.

Now we in America get a taste of the same thing. Senator Long stops a revolver bullet, and the same sort of emotion that struck down the late King Alexander of Yugoslavia comes to the surface in the senator's own Louisiana.

It goes without saying, of course, that the act will arouse a feeling of shocked horror among Senator Long's political opponents, as well as among his friends. Political assassination is a peculiarly dreadful and frightening thing, one of the chief fruits of democratic government is that it makes such action unnecessary. You don't need to shoot a politician when you can get at him with a ballot.

But that is just the point. Senator Long set up in Louisiana a dictatorial regime under which he was beyond the reach of ballots. He made a dictator of himself; a dictator without the grace of storm troopers, blood purges or anti-Semitism, to be sure, but a dictator none the less. And by so doing he prepared the ground for assassination.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

Eyes of Federal Employees Strained in Worry Toward Supreme Court . . . Wholesale Loss of New Deal Jobs Is Feared . . . Unusual Pleasure Is Given Cotton King . . . "Brain Boys" Corcoran and Cohen to Battle On.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal and Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington—Policy makers of the administration are worried about the U. S. Supreme Court, of course. But to many thousands of federal employees, who are human even as you and I, the nine old justices begin to loom as so many figures of ill omen.

Powerless to do anything about it, employees whose jobs are endangered by disputes as to constitutionality of laws which created their agencies nevertheless are reacting in terms of subdued jitters and many covert efforts to obtain transfers to safer harbors.

A by-product of it all is that many file clerks and stenographers to whom the Constitution was once only a name are now so full of information about it that they feel competent to debate the interstate commerce clause with the delegation of power issue with Borah himself.

A Pleasure for Oscar
Oscar Johnston, head of the AAA cotton pool, owner of America's largest cotton plantation and some of the finest cotton in the world, was introduced to AAA Administrator Chester Davis at the Delta Day celebration down in Mississippi.

"The pleasant things in my experience," Oscar said, "always seem to have been either unhealthy, unwise, immoral, or expensive."

But the pleasure of introducing Davis, he added, had none of those drawbacks.

The AAA, which is getting nearer and nearer the high court, has more than 6000 workers intimately concerned with interpretations of Paragraphs 1 and 3, Section 8, Article I, as any lawyer, or even the president himself.

TVA, with nearly 17,000 on the payroll, rests largely on the government's right to develop power from navigable streams for distribution to private users. About a hundred employees of the National Labor Relations Board who have been hanging on inactively through the summer waiting for the new Wagner act to get in operation are thinking in terms of the commerce clause.

Many Workers Affected
New agencies, such as the Economic Security Board—which may have 20,000 or more employees some day—the Guffey act's coal board, and the Railroad Retirement Board must worry about the court as well as the fact that Huey Long filibustered them out of funds.

Just think what a dog's life the staff of the Railroad Retirement Board has been leading. Booted out some months ago, when the court held the first retirement act invalid, most of the boys and girls aimed to return when new legislation was passed to get around the court's objection.

Then Huey blocked the funds and even if Roosevelt finds the money for the board, the supreme court may come along and fire the "staff" all over again.

NRA stands as the local horrible example of what may happen to employees when the court speaks. Its 5200 men and women have dwindled to 2800, and a thousand more, including about 700 in the field, will be going soon because the Walsh bill providing wage-hour codes in government contracts failed in a House committee.

"Brain Boys" to Fight On Those two very bright boys, Ben Cohen and Tom Corcoran, who wrote and plotted the administration's securities stock market, and were attacked as administration "lobbyists" in the House, are getting set for court attacks by utilities on the holding company law.

The big power company groups have announced their intention to attack

Our Saviour's Hospital Graduates Young Women Students Last Night

Five young women who have completed their courses at the Our Saviour's hospital school of nursing, were graduated at exercises last night at eight o'clock in the Church of Our Saviour. The commencement address was delivered by Rev. Dean F. F. Formaz.

This year's graduates were Miss Frances Kibach, Carrollton; Miss Janetie Lambie Girard; Miss Helen Thien, Carrollton; Miss Vera Schroeder, Bluffs; Miss Elizabeth Turner, Virginia.

and these two young lawyers know all the answers there are.

Cohen could have been appointed to the SEC with a special assignment to administer regulation and dissolution of holding companies. But he preferred to stay outside and "brain trust" on legal defense of the act.

He personally approved for the job J. D. Ross, head of the successful Seattle municipal power system for many years and an expert on the power business.

Although Cohen was barred by a House vote from sitting in as Senate counsel with the Wheeler-Rayburn bill conference, he and Corcoran sat in an adjoining room during every session and conferred with senators who came out to see them from time to time.

They coached Senate conferees before and after each session. Meanwhile, it has since leaked out, their spies were visiting the headquarters of such lobbyists as B. B. Robinson of Associated Gas & Electric and reporting what they heard.

Will Submit More Evidence to Master In Sewer Bond Case

Thursday Set for Putting Added Records on File in Federal Court

Additional evidence in the case of the bankers Life Insurance Co. of Des Moines vs. the City of Jacksonville will be submitted before a special master in federal district court at Springfield, Thursday. This case, which is a suit of the company to recover an alleged loss on bonds of the South Side sewage disposal project, has been pending for sometime.

Some months ago William Patton was appointed special master to take evidence. It was thought that all records had been submitted, but recently it was decided that the city would submit additional records, and it is expected the company will also present more evidence.

The company alleges that collections on the bonds for the sewer project, of which it holds a large block, were not legally allotted to principal and interest redemption funds during past years. The city contends that records of assessments have been kept perfectly.

The loss of funds occurred on account of the failure of the Ayers National Bank, where the money for redemption of the bonds was held.

Route 105 Slab Now Complete to Quincy

Route 104 extends on from the junction with 105 to Mount Sterling, where it connects with the route between Peardstown and Quincy. Route 104 extends from Mount Sterling to Taylorville. Motorists should not confuse the two routes.

Farmers Will Find Changes In Contracts

Plan Series of Community Meetings to Explain AAA Agreement

A number of changes designed to make the new AAA wheat contract better suited to Morgan county conditions will be found by farmers when they study the new program during the coming series of community meetings, in the opinion of Frank J. Flynn, president of the Morgan county wheat association.

The new contract, which will be put before local farmers for the first time during this series of meetings, was drafted after the proposed plan had been studied by farmer representatives of the principal wheat growing states. Wheat farmers in Morgan and other Illinois counties are represented by Sherman Stokoe, Belleville, president of the St. Clair County Wheat Production Control Association.

The contract is to run for four years, from 1935 to 1939, inclusive, as compared with the three-year period of the present contract. The longer period will reduce the cost of frequent sign-up campaigns and will enable the contract signer to plan his operations over the four-year period. Provision is made for voluntary withdrawal by individuals at the end of two years, if the farmer has fully complied with the contract. The Secretary of Agriculture may also terminate the contract at the end of any marketing year if circumstances warrant, or if national referendum on the question is held and a majority of the contract signers vote against continuation of the contract. Twenty-five per cent of the co-operating wheat producers in any of the principal wheat regions may initiate a national referendum upon petition.

Under the new contract the producer will have additional assurance of a full parity return on his allotment through the flexible-payment principle. Under this plan, producers will receive a first payment each year, and then at the end of the year, the second adjustment payment will be fixed at such an amount as will tend to give the producer parity according to what the price of wheat has been during the marketing year.

The reduction each year will depend upon the national and world wheat situation. The contract provides that the reduction may be as much as 25 per cent under the base acreage. This is the extreme limit, however. The 1933-35 contract called for as much as 20 per cent, but the most required was in 1934, when 15 per cent was asked. For 1935 the reduction asked was only 10 per cent, and the figure for 1936 is 5 per cent. A feature of the new contract is that producers agree to hold their acreage within the base figure, even if no reduction is asked.

New Wheat Contract

The base years for the new wheat contract are the same as those for the present contract—1920-32 for acreage and 1928-32 for production. Under certain conditions, four-year and five-year base periods may be used to meet special crop-rotation and summer-fallow practices.

The contract will open to all wheat producers who can establish a base production and acreage. Under certain conditions farmers who did not grow wheat in all the base years may sign contracts and receive adjustment payments on a limited scale. Producers who have not been in touch with the farm adviser or their county or community committees.

The adjusted acreage is to be used for such purposes as pasture, hay, timber, shelter belts, soil-erosion prevention, weed control, soil improvement and summer fallow. "Adjusted acreage" under the new contract means the same as "contracted acreage" under the first contract.

No adjustment payments can be assigned to any person or party. The signers of the contract are the only ones who can receive adjustment payments, except that in certain instances, agents of estates and similar parties may receive the payments. Farmers signing the contract may designate a beneficiary, such as is done under an insurance policy. Then, if the farmer should die or disappear, the beneficiary could receive the payments. This is especially aimed at preventing delay in dependents receiving payments if the contract signer dies. If any attachment, garnishment or other legal process is started against adjustment payments, the payments are to be held up until the producer is free to receive them.

If a producer violates the contract, the contract may be terminated and the producer held responsible for the repayment of his adjustment payments for the previous year.

Where a producer operates several farms as a single unit arrangements may be made for joint compliance under certain specific conditions, just as under the 1933-35 contract. Landlords may submit several farms under a single contract if the tenants are willing and if the farming practices are such that a contract of this type is desirable.

The new contract protects tenants against changes in leases which would result in reducing the tenant's adjustment payments. The producer certifies when he signs the contract that no device or scheme has been used which would deprive any other party to the contract of his rightful share of the payments. If the lease is changed during the life of the contract, no change can be made in the division of payments, unless such change is approved by the allotment committee.

THIS MAN TEACHES RICH MEN TRICKS

Salo Ansbach Visits Here After 45 Years; Shows Carriell Letter

Maybe it is difficult to teach millionaires and "big business" men a few tricks, as they seem to know most of those in the bag. But Salo Ansbach of East Orange, N. J., has been teaching folks a trick or two for 58 years, and he has taught such noted men as Charles Schwab and the DuPonts. He has even instructed some members of the House of Morgan.

Mr. Ansbach stopped in Jacksonville Tuesday after an absence of 45 years. He exhibited a letter written by Dr. Carriell, one-time superintendent of what was then the Illinois Central Hospital for the Insane. The letter was written May 16, 1890, and told of a performance Mr. Ansbach had given before the patients at the institution.

Mr. Ansbach has perhaps the most specialized profession that can be imagined in this age of specialization. He is an instructor in the art of legedmain and magic. He says that many rich men make this their hobby and use it to entertain their friends. Hence the business of teaching them how.

Bowman Holds Red Birds to Five Hits But World Champs Refuse to Take a Drubbing

St. Louis, Sept. 10.—(P)—A three-run rally in the eighth inning, after Joe Bowman had held them to one hit and one run, gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 4 to 2 victory today over Philadelphia.

The victory, coming after two straight defeats at the hands of the Pirates, enabled the Red Birds to maintain their one-game National league lead over the Chicago Cubs, who won again from Boston. The New York Giants, beating Pittsburgh twice, closed in their third-place margin to 1 1/2 games.

Manager Frank Frisch with a single in the sixth inning was the only member of his team to find safe territory until the decisive eighth. His ace was timely hit, scoring Bill Hallahan.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 10.—(P)—The New York Giants closed in on both the league leading Cardinals and the second-place Cubs today as they swept the Pittsburgh Pirates, winning both ends of a double header with first 4 to 3 and the second 4 to 2 with a three-run rally in the ninth.

The victories reduced the Cards advantage over the Giants to two and one-half games and the Cubs margin to one and one-half.

Hank Leiber's timely hitting and pitcher had walk, gone to second on Martin's walk and to third on Ottobrock's forceout of Martin.

Bowman issued six passes, but he was just wild enough to be good until the fatal eighth. Gelbert, the man who had pitched with a vengeance led off the inning with a single. Pitcher Virgil Davis followed suit, and men came important doubles, by Ottobrock and Medwick. It was the third consecutive game in which Medwick had hit safely.

Curt Davis stopped the rally, but he Philis threw a scare into the Cards before the game ended. Dizzy Dean went to the hill in the ninth and the hills put two men on base before Paul could retire the side.

The first Philadelphia run was a consolation from Jim Collins. Allen Allyn Stout's fine relief hurling carried the Giants to victory in the opening contest. As they jumped away in front with two runs in the first inning, Leiber drove home one of the tallies with a double and then sent another across the plate with a single in the third. Their fourth run was scored in the fifth, when Paul Moore beat out a hit, went to second on a sacrifice and scored on Bill Terry's double.

Clyde Castlemen kept the Bucs in check with only one run for five innings. In the sixth, however, he walked Paul Wanner and Vaughan and Suhr singled, to put Brother Paul across with one run. Stout was called to the rescue and he forced Young to slap into a double play, Vaughan crossing the plate. That was all for first-sacker then picked up Chizars' bat and fired it past Hallahan, letting Allen score.

After the Cards tied it up in the 11th, Johnny Vezex cracked a home run into the left field bleachers to tie his team ahead briefly.

For the second day in succession, just 2,000 fans turned out to see the slug-leaders.

The Bucs, however, as Stout matched Cy Blanton's scoreless pitching the last three innings.

After going hitless in 38 successive times at bat, Mel Ott led the Giants' attack in the second. He drove in the Giants' first run in the fourth with a double and sent the tying run across the plate in the ninth with a single when they fell on Ralph Birkhofer for three hits, which with the help of Thevenow's error gave them the game.

The Pirates' two runs came in the sixth on triples by Suhr and Thevenow and a double by Young.

Thief Makes Away With Sample Cases

White Hall Salesman Has Bad Luck on Road; 11 Cases Disappear

White Hall—Allen Brannan of this city, who travels for a dry goods firm of Burlington, Iowa, had eleven sample cases stolen from his automobile while the car was parked in front of a hotel in Bloomington. Mr. Brannan had left his car locked while he went to supper and when he returned to his car at 7:30 found the locks on his car door had been broken and his samples gone.

Three cases were left in the car and it is not known if the burglars were frightened or why these were not taken also. Mr. Allen went to Burlington to make report on his loss and came to his home here Saturday for the week end with his family.

The September meeting of the Baptist Women's Missionary Society was held at the parsonage with the pastor's wife, Mrs. C. W. Kerst as hostess. Devotions were led by Mrs. Lena Hudson. Miss Emma Duncan gave a book review on "Negroes in America and Our Duty Toward Them." Mrs. Pearl Hull read several negro poems and a group of ladies sang negro spirituals. Mrs. Buel Fair and Mrs. Ber Kirgan assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

Mrs. John Overbey fell in a store Saturday and broke her right arm.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Heberline, Tuesday, a son, who is the fourth child.

Blanche Meek of Jerseyville, who was in an auto wreck near Carrollton Saturday night, was brought to the White Hall hospital suffering with a cut across the forehead. She was able to leave the hospital Sunday morning.

Hal Wendell suffered an injury to his side Monday afternoon while practicing football on the White Hall high school athletic field.

Mrs. G. W. Whitaker is confined to bed with a heavy cold.

Mrs. Alton Seymour is quite ill suffering with tonsillitis.

Franklin Potts who suffered a fractured rib and a broken tooth, and a gash in his tongue that required three stitches to close, in an auto accident Saturday night, is resting as well as can be expected at his home of North Main street. Mr. Potts was returning home from Jacksonville and collided with a car driven by Rollie Frame of White Hall north of the city. Bennie Anderson who was riding with Frame was slightly injured also.

The BLUE DOOR

By Rachel Mack

BEGIN HERE TODAY

RUTH WOODSON, 19 years old, an orphan, leaves Brooklyn by bus for the mid-west to look for a job. Unable to pay her fare, she is put off the bus in the little town of Worthville. Just as a storm is breaking, Ruth seeks shelter in an old stone house with a blue door and falls from hunger just as PENNY, the old housekeeper, opens the door.

Ruth is carried upstairs by the old woman, assisted by JOHN McNEILL, from next door. The old woman's family, the Ruths, are the Chalmers family. Ruth's grandfather built the house. Ruth tells her confidante to think this. She is ashamed of her deception and resolves to slip away, but decides to stay longer when Penny tells her the next day is her 75th birthday and pleads with Ruth to make "a long visit."

Elaine Chalmers, meanwhile, at a society meeting, vows in a so-called "meeting" to win the love of her first sweetheart, John McNeill, who she writes from a letter, telling him she plans a visit to Worthville, but fails to mail the letter.

When Penny turns over to Ruth a box of lovely clothes, sent by the Chalmers family, Ruth, in a moment of resolve, resolves to wear them, "letting charity fall where it will," she has a proud John to go for a ride with him that evening.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XII

RUTH spent the day entertaining Penny. That is to say, she listened to Penny and she talked to Penny. She was well rewarded. There was the knowledge that she had made the lonely, half-blind old woman happy, and there was the useful information she gained in regard to Elaine's family.

Elaine's father, she learned from Penny's rambling tales, was an admirable young man who was killed in the World War. (Ruth thought, "At least Elaine Chalmers and I have that in common--our brave fathers whom we can't remember.") Elaine's mother, "Miss Gwen," eventually married a second time. The man was an old sailor. Higate Deal, of Wall Street fame.

In speaking of Deal, Penny hinted dark things. "He ruined your grandpa's railroad. Now that he's got hold of it they don't pay the stockholders around here like they used to. I hear reports--" She stopped, as if afraid she had said too much.

Ruth, in turn, invented interesting accounts of Elaine's life in the east.

"I won a swimming event at Newport, Penny," "At Saranac one time I was skiing and took an awful tumble. The young man who picked me up afterward proposed to me, but mother and Mr. Deal didn't approve, so nothing came of it."

"Maybe he didn't have enough money," remarked Penny with a faint smile. Any mention of Higate Deal seemed to throw her into a suppressive rage.

RUTH led her to talk of "Grandfather Hunter," the old railroad king. "There was a man for you!" Penny declared. "Six-foot-two. White hair piled on his head like a corn shock. A nose like an eagle's beak. He spoiled his children--your mother and Uncle Duncan--something awful, but he never spoiled himself. He let them go east to school and do as they pleased. But he always said they state of Ohio was good enough for him. Folks around here still talk about St. Hunter. If they knew you was in town, his only grandchild, they'd likely write a letter."

HE slowed the car to point out a rambling brick house with an avenue of trees leading to it. He said, "You recall that place, of course. The Philippines still live there. Lucy's at Vassar now. I guess you see her sometimes in New York?"

"It's funny," Ruth answered. "I never do. Has she changed much?"

"Not as much as you have," John McNeill said.

He offered her a cigarette which she took, hoping she was not too awkward at catching the light he offered her. Elaine, she felt, would smoke under the circumstances.

He said, looking at her until the match burned his fingers. "You look lovely today. Mind my telling you?"

"Mind? I like it. But we'll have to give credit to my clothes. I've always liked this suit. It's more flattering than the little rag I arrived in."

"When I first saw you," John remarked, "you were the likeliest little piece of wreckage I ever laid eyes on. It was a first-class faint."

M. W. Kehart, a member of the faculty for six years, succeeds J. H. Voshall as superintendent of schools.

Two changes in the faculty have taken place. A. Q. Lathrop, former Millikin grid star and athletic director for the past four years at Bryan, O., is the new athletic coach. Carl Brook, a graduate of McKendree and for the past two years science teacher at Xenia, Ill., heads the science department. The faculty for the 1935-36 school year is as follows: M. W. Kehart, principal and history; Mrs. Carolyn McKee, math; Miss June Willis, Latin and English; Mrs. Opal Galloway, home economics; Carl Brook, science; Miss Josephine Conboy, music; A. Q. Members of the Morgan fair board of directors, the Chamber of Commerce and civic clubs will form most of the delegation. The Jacksonville people will inspect the fair, and the band will give a concert on the grounds.

Dasey Will Design Room at Auto Show

Novel development in the field of art and murals of unusual effect have won for Homer H. Dasey, instructor of Art at Illinois College, much favorable comment.

He has recently been commissioned by A. L. Faeh, director of the National Automobile Show at Chicago to design the "Olive" room for the show.

This reception salon is one hundred by twenty-five feet and will probably portray the balcony of a Spanish hacienda. The walls will be painted in such a way as to represent the country side with mountains in the background, and will be screened with gauze and lighted in such a way as to look like the actual landscape.

Wrought iron railings will add to the effect and electric fans will circulate the winds (from the country side.)

LOCAL SCHOOL ENROLLMENT IS 2,641 IS REPORT

Schools Here Open Under Favorable Conditions Says Dr. Stoops

A grand total school enrollment of 2,641 pupils in Jacksonville elementary and high school was reported by Dr. R. O. Stoops, superintendent of schools, at the meeting of the Board of Education last night. This number equals the enrollment in the local schools last year, Dr. Stoops said.

In the absence of George B. Kendall, president of the board, Lawrence Oddy presided at the meeting last night. Members S. N. Clark, Fred Hopper, Ralph Hutchinson, S. M. Foley, Hayden Walker and Charles Wright attended the meeting.

Dr. Stoops reported that the schools have opened under favorable conditions. All teachers elected, returned with the exception of Miss Louise Struck who resigned. At the meeting last night the board voted to employ Miss Helen E. Richards to teach in the high school. Miss Richards graduated from the Jacksonville high school and Illinois college and has had practice teaching under Miss Struck.

Continuing his report Dr. Stoops said 24 teachers had attended summer school this year. Prof. J. C. Mutch attended the University of Missouri and Miss Hester Burbridge attended the University of Illinois. There were nine teachers of the high school who attended summer school, three from David Prince school took summer courses and 12 grade teachers attended school during their vacations.

Improved Faculty
Dr. Stoops reported a constantly improving school faculty. The schools have the minimum normal graduation in the grades and college graduation in David Prince and Masters' degrees in the high school. The grounds and buildings were in excellent shape for the school term opening, Superintendent Stoops reported.

Discussing enrollment Dr. Stoops stated that there were 1,227 pupils in the elementary schools, 436 in the David Prince school and 976 in the high school, making a grand total of 2,641 pupils. There is a continued heavy demand for books to loan, he said.

A manual training shop for boys in the David Prince school was opened in the Josephine Milligan building with 30 benches. This shop under Mr. Freeman gives five periods daily to David Prince pupils and enables Mr. Laire to give full time to high school boys. Mr. Freeman will also devote three periods daily to band and orchestra work.

A special group of over-age boys admitted to the grades have been admitted to David Prince and they will have the same academic and manual training, bookkeeping and physical education. Following the report of Dr. Stoops that 18 stools are needed for the lunch room annex the board voted to purchase them.

The dental clinic will open this month and Miss Buchanan will serve as school nurse. The board voted to utilize the services of students, who are to receive federal aid for college attendance, in making a school census.

Dr. Stoops then discussed the uncertainty concerning the state's obligations to the local school relating to help for cripples and tuition for orphans placed in homes in this district. Only a portion of the money to pay these bills has been received by the local school.

School Legislation
Discussing school legislation the superintendent said, there were no bills passed to replace deficits from 1930-31-32 and 33 back taxes. About one-third of nearly $7,000,000 was paid in July, and the deficit in the last biennium remains at $7,000,000. The annual state distributive fund has increased from $13,000,000 to $13,000,000 but there is no assurance as to how much will really be paid.

Reporting for the finance committee Member Wright stated that the township treasurer's report showed $2,960.94 in the educational fund and $22,851.65 in the building fund. Tuition from the non-high school district this week approximately $13,012, will more than meet the September payroll, Wright reported. The final distribution of taxes by the sheriff is to be made and the August state distributive fund has not been received, he reported.

Member Foley reporting for the building committee gave the following assignments for janitors: W. E. Ferguson, chief utility man; G. E. Belzer, Franklin school; Charles Carter, Washington school; Henry Tendick and Mrs. Wiltz, high school; Frank Massey and Triona Duncan, David Prince; Frank Vieira, fireman at the heating plant; J. B. Harrison, Jefferson school and David Cummings, Lafayette school.

Mr. Foley reported that the Josephine Milligan school is being enlarged for use of manual training classes, and that the Washington school roof has been repaired. It was voted to make the final payment of $10 to Smirl & Gibson contractors, who built the Washington school.

Member Walker reported bids received from five local coal companies to supply coal for the schools this winter. It was voted to award the contract for supplying approximately 1,500 tons of coal to the Jacksonville Coal company. One bid received was for one month only and was disregarded, others being from the Jacksonville Coal company, $32.25 per ton; Lewis Coal company, $32.25 per ton and the Jacksonville Coal company and Student Coal company, $32.00 per ton. Preference was given to the Jacksonville Coal company because of its permanency in the city as a taxpayer. Bills in the amount of $123,977 were approved.

Decatur Engineers to Plan, Supervise Work For Proposed Plant

Warren & Van Praag, Inc., of Decatur, engineers who prepared the application for the municipal light and power plant and distribution system, were retained as engineers for the project when, and if it is officially granted, members of the city council decided last night after adjourning a three hour informal session to return to the city council chambers and cast their votes. The decision to retain the Decatur firm was voted 5 to 3 by the council.

The council, immediately after passing the resolution employing Warren and Van Praag to draw up the plans, specifications and to supervise the work, passed another resolution naming Attorney O. N. Foreman as the city's representative in legal matters pertaining to the improvement, authorizing him to draw up all of the necessary legal documents pertaining to it.

The action was taken in an effort to obtain some definite information regarding the project which was announced as officially awarded, then cancelled, and then placed under consideration again. Neither Alexander Van Praag, who represented the firm during the negotiations, nor Attorney Foreman were ready last night to announce any definite plans, but both have said previously that they intend to go to Washington in an effort to speed up official action on the $189,000 grant and $231,000 loan for the purpose of constructing the plant and distribution system. The resolution follows:

Resolution
"Be it resolved by the City Council of the City of Jacksonville, Illinois, that Warren & Van Praag, Inc., consulting engineers of Decatur are hereby selected, and designated and appointed as engineers to represent the City of Jacksonville, Illinois on the proposed municipal electric light and power plant project in all negotiations relating thereto.

"To prepare plans and specifications as may be required therefore and to supervise the construction thereof.

"That the mayor and city council of the said City of Jacksonville, Illinois, be and are hereby authorized to enter into a contract with the said engineers, the fees and manner of payment thereof to be subject to the approval of the City Council of the said City of Jacksonville, Ill."

An almost death-like stillness came over the council when Mayor Fletcher J. Blackburn called it to order after the three hour informal session in the afternoon at which Van Praag and H. I. Caldwell, representing the Caldwell Engineering company, of this city, appeared before the council and presented their project committee. There was a long delay in getting the council ready to act on the matter, and after an informal poll of the council was taken, another delay ensued while City Attorney C. Ray Grunty, retired to prepare the resolution.

In the meantime, Mayor Blackburn asked if any member of the council had anything to say, but did not receive a response. He asked if anyone of the large gathering in the council chamber had any remarks to make, but again his question went without an answer. During the delay members of the council huddled in groups over the glass topped council table, discussing the situation, while others in attendance at the meeting sat quietly, attempting to catch the drift of the various debates.

Alderman George Brown introduced the resolution to retain the services of the Decatur engineers, and it was immediately seconded by both Aldermen John Early and Ray Harmon.

Alderman Harmon withdrew his second in favor of Early, and City Clerk John R. Phillips called the roll. Alderman Brown, Early, Green, Harmon and Weaver voted for the resolution and Aldermen Cocking, Denny and Mathews voted against it. Applause greeted the decision when announced by the clerk.

Immediately after the vote was taken, Alderman Mathews was given the privilege of explaining his vote, stating that he voted against the resolution for several reasons. His first was that the Caldwell firm was a local organization, and that it brought in over $75,000 annually from communities outside of Jacksonville, and that the Caldwell company was a taxpayer in the city. He also stated that the Caldwell company has been awarded the contract for the extension and rehabilitation of the waterworks and that in view of the fact that the two projects were interlocked, from the standpoint of furnishing power, that it would be necessary for the Caldwell company to change its plans for a means of providing power to operate the pumps in the waterworks. He closed by stating that the project meant that over $200,000 of the money was going to go outside the city for engineering fees, and declared that the council was facing two of the biggest projects the city ever has attempted to undertake.

Somehow embarrassed, he stated, Attorney Foreman took the floor to point out his position. He recalled that he had appeared before the council last week flat-footedly in favor of the project and that last night the council saw fit to appoint him as attorney in the matter.

"There will be people who will say I am actuated by the possibility of securing a position," he continued, "and my answer to this is that I was here at the inception of the idea working for the city at a salary of $67.50 a month." During the two year period he was employed as city attorney, he stated, his attentiveness to the proposition lost his firm time and money. He declared he had fought for the municipal plant from the inception of the idea, and that that was his best proof of his selfless motives.

"I am confident the engineering firm will do everything humanly possible, that the council will cooperate, and I know I will do all I possibly can to bring about the plant," he stated. He urged the council to present a united front. Pressure will be brought to bear all along the line, he said, to stop the project, but the council must not weaken if it is to achieve success," he declared.

Both resolutions call for contracts to be executed by the mayor and city clerk, subject to the approval of the city council. The PWA has set a limit on the possible engineering fees and the possible legal costs for improvements, both of which are to come out of the loan and grant if the project goes to construction.

Declaring that he was extremely grateful for the expression of confidence in his firm as expressed by the vote, Van Praag told the council that the project was a very important one and that he was confident that the council would support it.

He stated that he was confident that the council would support it.

Enlists in Army
Waverly, Sept. 10.—Word has been received here that John Curvin has been accepted in the United States Regular Army for a period of three years. He also states that there were two vacancies for a typist to the officers in that camp and he and another boy from Chicago were the two lucky ones chosen out of three hundred boys for that position. He says this was due to the fact that they had had a high school education and both had gone to Business College. He has a splendid place to stay and plenty of good food. They will be stationed at Fort Sheridan, Illinois that is about thirty-five miles from Chicago.
